

A Note from Rev. Deb Roberts

August - A Time of Gearing Down and Gearing UP

Dear Friends,

August is a unique month. We realize, summer has almost whooshed by. In the Midwest, we long for its arrival and when summer comes slowly and stormily as it has this year, we long for it to linger.

Many of us fit 'last fling' outings, gatherings or travels into August. We want that last week of down time, of gearing down and relaxing. September hits all too soon and life takes on a different pace! Schedules return to full swing. We have to 'gear up'!

Knox will be switching gears as well with the wonderful anticipation of Robert Quiring and Catherine Langford's wedding. What fun and we're all invited to attend! Save the date of August 23rd and stay tuned for how we can help Robert and Catherine prepare for their big day.

During this summer we examined the Fruit of the Spirit and considered how to 'take them on' in our lives and relationships. Remember giving up all that 'bad stuff' during Lent? Wasn't it refreshing to think about how we bear and reproduce love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control? Did you add your stories to the Knox Family Fruit Basket in the Commons?

August will set us on the course of preparing for the Fall Church Wide Study and we are excited about this study! We think you will appreciate the book study, the small groups, the sermon series and getting involved. Don't miss meeting the author as he kicks off the sermon series on September 7th. Skye Jethani will introduce his book, 'With: Reimagining the Way You Relate to God'. Save the date of September 7 now!

And last but not least, Knox will continue to increase our use of internet resources. The newsletter goes paperless next month. We have our new and improved Web site which is the best place for late breaking news and now our own Knox Facebook page! We are switching gears alright - into the 21st century. Contact the church office if you would like to receive a paper copy mailed to your home.

Somehow autumn will make its way into our mind's eye and spirit once again. We will receive the beauty of Indian summer and enjoy the bounty of the harvest. Before we know it, Thanksgiving will gather us around tables of family and friends with grateful hearts.

Psalm 65: 1, 11-13

Praise is due you O God...You crown the year with your bounty...the pastures, the meadows, the valleys...shout and sing together for joy.

Blessings to you and may you have time to gear down before gearing up!

FALL CHURCH WIDE STUDY 2014 Begins September 7

'WITH: Reimagining the Way You Relate TO God' by Skye Jethani

The Adult Education Council is excited about this study!

- Author, Sky Jethani, will preach at both services on September 7
- He will sign books as well
- Books will be available beginning August 3
- Small group sign ups also begin August 3
- People find this study life changing....a few quotes -

"This is the book that keeps on giving. You take something new away every time you read it."

"People should be prepared to forever think of their personal relationship with Christ in a whole new way."

"There are 'ah has' in every chapter!"

In this book, Skye Jethani uses four prepositions - under, over, from and for - to reveal the way many of us relate to God. With one final preposition - with - he lays out what it means to know and experience communion with God; to experience a life of faith, hope and love, which are the very things that we all desperately want and need.

Here are ways to jump in and participate:

- Join a current small group - note all the times and days which are available.
- Start a new group, your own group. We'll supply you with a Leaders Guide and books.
- Re-energize your current small group and invite new friends to join in.
- Check out the sign up wall in the Commons to see what will work for you.

The Knox Annual Church Wide Study is a great way to meet people, study, learn and share, and to get involved at Knox. Become part of this 8 week study as we examine together through the weekly sermons and the weekly studies, how we think about God and our relationship to God. You will find this a helpful, encouraging and inspiring study!

Back(pack) to School Time in Sisseton

Dakota Partnership is again collecting filled backpacks to help the students in Sisseton get off to a good start for the 2014-2015 school year. If you would like to help with this worthy cause:

- Supply lists can be found online – click on the rotating banner link on the homepage or go to Outreach > Dakota Partnership – bottom of the page (you can also pick up a tag in the Commons at Knox)
- Buy the backpack and fill it with the school supplies listed on the tag.
- Return filled backpacks to Knox with the tag on the outside of the bag.

This will help ensure that we get the backpacks to the correct age student. We have 312 students who will need backpacks so any help you can give will be appreciated. If you would rather not purchase the backpack feel free to donate supplies or cash to help get supplies needed. All backpacks are due by August 10.

Sisseton Trip 2014 – by Julie Milldrum

GREAT AMERICA here we come. What? We are off to Sisseton!! Not Wisconsin! But we ARE the Great America theme park to these kids. Over the years I often wondered what makes these kids long for us to come back. Why, when they get older do they cry when we leave? I thought when you got older you stopped crying when people leave. I think I saw what it was that we give these kids. Unadulterated love. No strings attached. No hidden agenda. Isn't that what God's love is all about? When I go to the older group, the big Burly YMEN give the big kids bear hugs or more importantly big slaps on the back (we are older now remember).

Morning for the older Native American kids start with YMEN circling the vans, shouting and getting the kids out. The first timers are afraid but then they grow to want the YMEN to come and circle the bus. Doesn't this represent God's love encircling all of us? They get out of bus and everyone makes sure that those kids feel special. They are unique and very special for that week. I do not think that they feel that way very often.

The little kids are given food, encouragement and lots of hugs. We are more subtle over there. I describe the swimming pool to the first timer volunteers; if you do not want to be a Christmas tree don't get in the water. It is for the intrepid that is for sure. The kids cling to you; you become a Christmas tree decorated with kids as ornaments. Some of us older people used to get in but now bad backs prevent us from doing this. That is for the younger people. We will just watch and cheer when the kids do their somersaults in the water, like God who cheers for us in our victories.
