

A Note From Rev. Deborah Kapp...

In I Cor. 3 Paul uses the metaphor of a garden to describe the ministry of the church. As a church, he says, we are like a fertile garden in which many people work. Some workers plant seeds. Others water, fertilize and tend new growth. None of us, however, is alone responsible for the miracles of growth and abundance. God gives the growth; God gives the growth through the mysteries of grace and through the blessings of the workers' synergism.

We who live in the upper Midwest are reminded of the mysteries of grace and growth every spring, are we not? Perennials and dandelions return on their own. Trees sprout leaves and blossom. The world comes alive. To be sure, there are many landscapers and avid gardeners who foster the growth of spring and summer, but much of it just comes because God makes it come. God gives the growth, and every year it is a blessing. Paul says that churches are like this, too. Churches grow and flourish with the help of lots of people, but mostly they grow and flourish by the grace of God.

As I join you this summer as your Guest Mentor Pastor, I look forward to sharing your ministry—being one of those workers in this corner of God's field. I also look forward to sharing God's goodness as it takes root and grows in your midst. Thank you for the privilege of joining you and your work. I look forward to being with you.

Deborah Kapp

In 1971, when Deborah Kapp told her mother that she would be attending seminary in New York City, her mother was worried. "It's dangerous," she said. "There will be a blackout! Here—take the flashlight." It turns out that Deborah's mother was right. Even in the protective walls of Union Theological Seminary, New York was a little dangerous, and, yes, there was a blackout (that was several years later, and unfortunately by then Deborah couldn't remember where she had put the flashlight). It also turns out that her mother was wrong. As edgy, dirty, noisy, and confusing as it could be, living in New York was also stimulating, enriching, joyful, and at times absolutely glorious.

In New York, Deborah fell in love with the city, and much of her ministry has occurred in urban settings. As a Minister of Word and Sacrament in the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) she has served churches in Montclair, NJ (Central Presbyterian Church, Interim Assistant Pastor for Christian Education, 1975-77), Chicago, IL (Fourth Presbyterian Church, Assistant/Associate Pastor, 1981-91), and Hartford, CT (First Presbyterian Church, Pastor, 1991-95). She also co-staffed the Pittsburgh office for United Presbyterian Women as a member of the national denominational staff (1977-80). In 1995 Deborah joined the faculty of McCormick Theological Seminary. Since 2006 she has served McCormick as the Edward F. and Phyllis K. Campbell Associate Professor of Urban Ministry.

In addition to receiving her M.Div. from Union Theological Seminary in New York City, Deborah holds an undergraduate degree from Brown University and M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in sociology from Loyola University Chicago. At Loyola, Deborah's work focused on the sociology of religion and culture; her primary research examined the practice and performance of worship in several congregations. It was in the context of this work that she got hooked on the avocation of hymnody.

On a more personal note, Deborah was born and raised in central and western Pennsylvania, and harbors an irrational devotion to Nittany Lion football, the Pittsburgh Pirates, and the Pittsburgh Steelers. In later life she also learned to savor the adventures of the Chicago White Sox and the UConn women's basketball team. She is married to Anthony (Tony) Ruger, whom she met while they were both students at Union. They live in Oak Park. Tony and Deborah have two sons, Geoffrey (27) and Peter (25). Their family also has two cats, Yoshi and My Darlin' Nellie Gray (Nell).

Presbyterian Women

Women's Luncheon – a wonderful time was had by all!

May 15 found almost 100 women of Knox enjoying a beautiful spring day around lovely decorated tables. In addition to salads, the ladies sampled desserts and scones with jam, lemon curd, or clotted cream, and sipped an assortment of tea. Women on Wednesdays shared their book collection project for Aunt Mary's Storybook Project, and Presbyterian Women thanked their mission workers and installed new officers for the upcoming year. Sandi Hurford and Leah Taylor, who are outgoing Moderators, were awarded Honorary Life Memberships in P.W. with accompanying symbolic butterfly pins; their names are inscribed on a plaque which hangs in the Commons. The guest speaker, Madeline Holstrom, provided an entertaining interactive laughter experience for everyone who emphasized the health benefits and joy of laughter in our lives. Everyone agreed we should do this again next year!

Missions at Knox

Thank You from Sisseton!

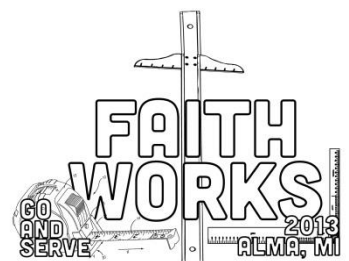

Thank you Highland and Ellsworth Clothing Exchange for all the generously donated clothes for Sisseton. The clothes are given free during our dinners with our fellow friends. They are needed for the kids and their family. I also want to thank Patty Reed, Betty Hemmeter, Rose Smilgys, and Dane Milldrum for taking over when I needed to be in school. We could not have done it without them.

Thanks so much,

If you prefer to support the food pantry financially, envelopes can be found in the pews. With your $10 donation, Loaves & Fishes can buy $100 worth of goods. The coins collected in the yellow coin funnel are donated to Cents-Ability in support of their food and self-help programs for families in need.

Hesed House

Many of you have seen the newly renovated overnight shelter facilities at Hesed House, which allow Hesed to assist more people in need than ever before. Nightly averages have hovered around 180 lately – far too high, unfortunately. The meals, helping hands and loving spirit Knox volunteers provide on the fourth Saturday of each month enable Hesed to fulfill its mission "to act justly, to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God. Your contribution as part of Knox's team, whether it be providing part of a meal or serving on a shift, will touch the lives of many. You will make a difference. As Helen Keller said, "I am only one, but still I am one. I cannot do everything, but I still can do something. I will not refuse to do the something I can do."

Sign-up sheets are in the Commons. We look forward to having you join us.
